

THIS WEEK'S MUST DO, SEE, BUY

LOVEit

PUT YOUR FEET UP

This nifty piece of furniture — the ottoman — doubles as a table for your mugs and plants as well as a time-out for your tootsies and backside. Aussie fabric brand Thea & Sami has five fancy ottomans on offer, hand-printed with either geometric patterns, florals or a cityscape. Or pick your own fabric for a custom-made piece. The team uses only sustainable linen and non-toxic inks. RRP $349. thea-sami.com.au

SHADES OF CHIC

Splash on some colour with Dames & Divas' recycled resin jewellery. Designer Amanda Fox turns unwanted resin into bright and bold bangles, rings and necklaces. The artsy handmade collection comes in four shades and each piece has a unique pattern. RRP from $19.95. damesanddivas.com.au

WEST-SIDE STORY

After eight years online, stationery store Invite Me has branched out into bricks and mortar with a new shop in downtown Yarraville. The Anderson St digs sells all manner of bits and bobs you'll need — from paper cups to porcelain cake stands — to host a birthday party or baby shower, as well as homewares and gifts. RRP $6.50-$149.95. invite-me.com.au

RAIN CHECK

Don't get caught short next time the heavens open with new Splash It To Me raincoats. These hooded nylon numbers come in five colours and fold up into their own compact, easy-to-carry pocket. Adult and kids sizes are available. RRP from $25. envirotrend.com.au

TERRIFIC TERRARIUMS

Remember those retro mini-gardens from the '70s? They're baaack. Online company Growing Gifts has a re-booted range of terrariums to add a little low-maintenance greenery to your office or home. There are several styles to choose from featuring airplants, succulents, bromeliads or bonsai. Better than the fleeting joy of a bunch of flowers. RRP $24.95-$80. growinggifts.com.au

